DAVIS THEATER.

Presenting Captain Hero and His Eight Polar Bears Today.

One of the three big features at the Davis today is Captain Hero and His Eight Polar Bears, a sensational animal act, and the only one of its kind in the world. These beautiful animals to many surprising stunts, some clever and some real funny. Nothing like this has ever been seen in this city, and no one will want to miss it. This act car-ries its own scenery, as well as a mammoth cage that takes up the whole stage. The eight bears are all pure white, and the way they perform is something remarkable. The feature photoplay on this bill is another of the Famous Players' Film company's pro-duction, and this time we have Lillie Langtry, the celebrated favorite of two continents, in an absorbing drams. His Neighbor's Wife, a story teeming with intense suspense and appeal. In this photodrama the great emotional actress is seen in one of her greatest characterizations. There are three reels to this feature and each one will hold. this feature, and each one will hold your interest to the finish. A feature that will make a big hit with sport burn Rovers, the famous English soc-cer football team, playing Reading. Barnsley and Burnley in the second, third and fourth rounds of the Eng-lish cup tie games. All the big football stars are seen in this picture, including Bob Compton, Jock Simpson, Dan Shea and others. There are 2,000 feet of film and a great game with Aston Villa is shown. To those interested in the local soccer teams this will prove a treat and to those who have never seen an English football game this is a rare op-portunity. Other dramatic and comedy photopiays will be seen, including the famous Mutual Weekly and Fatty's Flirtation, a screamingly funny Keystone comedy, Matinee daily, all seats 10 cents; evening at 7 and 8.45, 10, -5 and 20 cents.

BOSTON OPERA SINGERS.

Coming to the Davis Theater. As the whole world during the past year has been celebrating the centen-nial of the great composer, Verdi, it is decidedly appropriate that one of his best known operas should be selected for presentation by the company of grand opera singers from the Boston Davis theater Thursday evening, Jan. 8th. The opera is La Translate The opera is La Travlata, as functul an opera as was ever written, and frequently used as a vehicle by the greatest prima donnas, including Melba and Tetrazzini. All four acts of the opera will be sung, so that the story, which is founded on the well The story deals with a beautiful girl.

Violetta Valery, who loses her parents in early childhood. Without parental guidance she soon abandons all for a life of pleasure. Her beauty attracts many companions, among them Alfredo District Superintendent Holds Confer-Germont. He grows to love her, and as his sincerity touches her, she gives up her wild ways. The two leave the city and are living in a country place outside of Paris, when the father of outside of Paris, when the father of Alfredo arrives and opposes the union, Violetta nobly sacrifices her feelings and leaves for Paris. A short time after Alfredo follows and finds her under the protection of Baron Duphol. Being unaware of her motives, which are altogether unselfish, he upbraids her in the presence of others. Violetts sturg to the quick, seeks her home th, stung to the quick, seeks her home there to die of a broken heart. Al-fredo, when apprised of the real facts, goes to her to atone for his heart-lessness, but he arrives too late. The poor girl's last moments are the hap-piest of her life, for she dies as Alfredo tells her of his faithful love.

The beautiful story will be told and the music sung by a cast which will include every member of the company. Moreover most of the singers will be heard in the magnificent concert pro-gramme which preceeds the opera, Prices 50c, 75c, $1, $1.50. Box seats Seat sale opens Tuesday, Jan. 6,

COLONIAL THEATER. The Toll of the Marshes, Immense Two Reel Land Swindle Story.

This is an interesting presentation of the land swindle evil, showing how a company goes on selling swampland in place of farms until the president takes his family to the scene of his operations, where his little daughter is lost in the marshes. Then one of the victims proves his worth by risking his life to return the girl, and restitution is made. This picture is presented with all the characteristic detail peculiar to the big Essanay company, and is scenically beautiful. You've Got to Pay is an exceptionally strong story dealing with an ex-convict, who in his pose to lead a better life is thwarted a dastardly penitentiary companion. The First Christmas is an exquisite of details of the original Christmas. Two comedies figure conspicuously on the programme, and are entitled respect.

SONGS IN THE NIGHT. To catch in the hour of darkness
Some gleams of eternal light.
To cheer some heart in the shadows.
To aid some soul in the flight;
To feel that the darkest hour
Precedes the roseate morn,
That the amber and gold of cloudland
Return with the sunbarst of dawn;
To learn in the world's great schoolroom

POETRY

To learn in the world's great schoolroom
The lessons the Master will give
Of fortitude, faith and patience,
He teaches his scholars to live;
To believe in eternal goodness.
That infinite love redounds
Greater than all the evil
That on the earth abounds:
The bursting of prison chains.
That solves the mystery of suffering
That cheers in the midst of pains.
Songs in the night God giveth,
As to his prophet of old.
Through fears we behold the vision,
While the heavenly arms enfold.
—From the Living Church.

THINGS WORTH WHILE.

The little sacrifices made
By patient mother-love;
The touch of little children's hands,
And sweet affection's subtle bands.

The bright sunshine above:
The song the robin sings;
The chord of music that awakes,
Yearning for nobler things.
These, and a trusting woman's love,
In life are most worth while.

—Verne Dewitt Rowell, in January
Nautilus.
